FOUNDER

- I am the founder of the creative platform Ten Thirty, which started with the desire to build an inclusive ground for words, photography and moving images alike. Designed to support creative projects of diverse nature, Ten Thirty collaborates with brands, businesses, artists and independent freelancers.
Ten Thirty helped produce several documentaries, such as Chomo and A Shark Without Teeth, and most recently published the non-fiction book 20 Persones: Un experiment social amb gust de café.

FOUNDER

- I am the co-founder of The Foodstuff, an online editorial platform in Southeast Asia that focused on finding the best value food-related items. I conceptualised, created and managed this platform with another co-founder. I formed a small team of passionate writers, oversaw the editorial direction and established partnerships with other regional media outlets and businesses for content syndication and collaborations.
